From Chairman, ISOR

Sacrificing spirit among other traits is a unique endowment which the so called 'Teacherness' is to be entwined within shaping the life and career of students for their shining futurity. A teacher shall have to conquer the hearts of students with 'the heart' and not with unforgiving thrashes. A teacher has many things to learn from a weak student. A weak student might remain shrouded with something only to be freed with taming smile for making the unknown known with infusing softness.
